Mr. Caminetti declared before he returned to Washington last night that immigration is increasing by "leaps and bounds." Charles Recht, attorney for a large number of the Ellis Island "Reds," went to Washington last night.

"Fair Trial Fund" For Radicals Is

Started in Boston

Special Correspondence
BOSTON, Jan. 11—A "fair trial fund" is being raised here to-day for the hundreds of men and women arrested as revolutionary radicals and now confined in the Deer Island House of Correction. The "Lengue of Demoratic Control," which includes in its membership many persons from old is an unwarranted waste of money. It is an unwarranted waste of money.

Responses to the appeals, it is said.

200 Buffalo Raiders

BUFFALO, Jan. 11.—Fifty suspected radicals were arrested here to-day in a raid participated in by 200 Federal, county and city officers, assisted by state troopers and private citizens. Of the fifty men arrested twelve were held after examination, ten on Federal deportation warrants and two on open charges.

Narragansett Pier, Newport and Here
Mrs. John H. Hanan, wife of John Henry Hanan, head of the firm of Hanan & Son, shoe manufacturers, died yesterday at her residence, 1073 Fifth Avenue, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Hanan was born at Narragansett Pier, R. I., a daughter of the late Jeremiah Briggs, a pioneer hotel keeper of that resort. Soon after her Isaac Isakowitz, the paroled convict arrested Saturday night for the murder of Dr. Jacob N. Hanania in his office at 21 East 118th Street, confessed the crime yesterday before Assistant District Attorney Benedict D. Dineen and detectives of the East 126th Street police station.

He declares, according to Mr. Dineen, that he killed the young dentist Sature day morning because he thought he was being slowly poisoned by him while his teeth were being treated. He also do detectives that he couldn't forget that Dr. Hanania was one of the within cesses who sent him to Sing Sing for seven years for attacking a girl relative of the dentist.

In the course of his confession, said Assistant District Attorney Dineen, Isakowitz declared that he bought a hatchet for 90 cents Saturday morning and went to the office of Dr. Hanania where he was admitted to the MRS. LILLIAN MYKINSTEY.
